Young adults and adults are trained prior to the program on the Ivy League philosophy, with each one having the natural ability to connect with children and act as positive role model. A background check is completed on each employee.

How will the Ivy League afterschool program differ from other afterschool programs?

The staff will be taking an active participatory role with the children in the program. The staff will be proactively facilitating activities in a structured camp program. Staff will not just be supervising the children but will be actively involved with children with their homework, sports/games, and creative/performing arts programs. Our camp staff understands the quality of care needed to make sure the children enjoy the aftercare program. The program will have a schedule of structured activities and club programs that will be diverse and change monthly. Students will be broken up by age, siblings can be requested to stay together.

Will my child have someone to help with homework?

YES! There will be a set time for homework to be completed. If a child needs help completing or understanding their homework, the staff will help clarify lessons and help them finish their homework assignments. One on one tutoring will also be available to work towards specific goals.
